Progression from Honours to Master’s coursework courses

A master’s degree course may be developed to allow for a student to progress from honours to a master’s course, provided:

• the progression occurs prior to graduation from honours
• honours course provides appropriate foundation for units in the master’s course
• content of honours coursework and dissertation is directly related to the master’s
• at least 50% of total units to complete the master’s are at Level 5
